Here are today's announcements

- Both 7th and 8th grade Girls basketball teams had big wins last night over Illini Central. Both teams discipline excellent sportsmanship and played hard. The girls will travel to Riverview tonight for another game. Good luck, Tigers!
- Homework hangout has started in Mrs. Oertle's room after school. Registration will stay open for any 6-8 grade student wanting to join. Just pick up a packet from the GMS Office.
- Students that applied for After School Art, check the webpage for a list of who made it into the program, and check your school email for a message from Miss Heruth regarding our first meeting!
- Sight and Sound will be at GMS today to conduct vision and hearing tests for students. The office will call classrooms for students.
- Happy Birthday today to Nevaeh McClanahan
- Morning time can get a little hectic when everyone is trying to come through the front door at the same time. But Charles Rachell tries to help make that easier by holding the door open each day too let students come in. He even waits for some of the kids that are coming in close to the warning bell. This is a great example of helping others and makes Charles an "Above and Beyond" student. Great job, Charles. Make sure you see Mr. Brown today for your tag.
